BESPOKE INTELLIGENCE FOR SECURITY PROFESSIONALS

Prescient's team of former law enforcement and intelligence professionals provides bespoke, responsive intelligence services for corporate security stakeholders who require actionable information in critical situations. Our team has supported clients facing internal fraud, anonymous external threats, and high-risk travel itineraries, among other scenarios.

Prescient's team of intelligence analysts have also worked with corporate security departments as an outsourced solution, when internal resources require ongoing or project-based support.

HIGHLIGHTS

Executive Digital Protection (EDP)

Our EDP program begins with an in-depth assessment of an executive's online presence to identify vulnerabilities, leaked PII, and threats. We then work with the executive and their security team to mitigate risks by removing PII and monitoring for suspicious activity on an ongoing basis.

Threat Response

Prescient's Threat Response program consists of attribution, investigation, and monitoring capabilities. Once a threat actor has been identified, we work with stakeholders to provide constant, conscise updates while we investigate and monitor the situation.

Travel Intelligence & Security

We leverage a global network of security assets, inhouse intelligence tools, and decades of experience to protect clients traveling at home and abroad. In addition to guards and security drivers, our team provides pre-travel itinerary risk and local security reports to inform strategic planning.

Open, Deep, & Dark Web Monitoring

Prescient intelligence analysts leverage in-house, proprietary technologies to collect intelligence from a variety of sources, including popular social media platforms like Twitter, Instagram, and Facebook, to identify threats to companies and employees. Threats are communicated to stakeholders in real-time.
